

Adjusted capability-frame values across three sampling days

Population-standardised means at operational detection > 0.001; error bars are 95% confidence intervals

Lines connect model-adjusted values, not repeated measurements of one bird. Values describe encoded capability distribution, not expression, activity or flux.